WHILE Tweed is showing up what Democracy accomplished in the palmy days of its rule in New York city, we occasionally get glimpses of the capabilities of its prominent leaders in other quarters, when opportunity presents. Since 1860 the national government has been under the control of Republicans, and the hungry Democratic reformers have not been able to get at the national treasury. So in Philadelphia, where most of the offices are filled by Republicans. Occasionally, however, prominent Democrats, debarred from high political trusts, manage to get control of private corporations. And it is a little singular that the two cases of fraudulent use of trust funds which have most startled Philadelphia, were the work of Democratic politicians of mark and influence. The fraudulent issue of stock a year or two ago by S. Gross Frey, is now followed by similar crime on the part of John S. Morton, President of the West Philadelphia Passenger Railway. Both were honored leaders in the Democratic party. Frey would probably have been nominated for State Treasurer but for the unearthing of his fraudulent practices. Morton had been named in connection with the Democratic nomination for Mayor of Philadelphia, and also for Governor of the State.

The Republican party has turned out some dishonest officials. It would be strange if it were otherwise, with thousands of officials scattered all over the country. When an occasional black sheep is discovered in the Republican ranks, the Democratic leaders send up a howl of reform and demand that the public treasury be turned over to their care. The Mortons are numerous, and the millions in the public treasury would furnish a richer field for operations than the treasury of a Passenger Railway.

THE New York Republican State Convention met last week and nominated John C. Churchill for Secretary of State, with a full ticket, all by acclamation. A series of well drawn resolutions were adopted. The action of the convention was notable, not so much for what it said or did, as for what it refused to do. Senator Conkling was a member of the Convention, and his friends constituted two-thirds of the delegates. The resolutions submitted by the committee ignored the policy of President Hayes. George W. Curtis, editor of Harpers' Weekly, a warm supporter of civil service reform, was also a delegate. Conkling and Curtis have been at outs for some time, and bear each other no good will. Curtis challenged an issue by submitting an amendment to the resolutions squarely endorsing the President's policy, and backed it up with a strong speech. Conkling seemed to welcome the issue, and in a speech of great ability made a fierce onslaught on the so-called civil service policy, and especially on Mr. Curtis. After an acrimonious debate Mr. Curtis' amendment was voted down, yeas 109, nays 295. The significance of this vote, is found in a practical condemnation of President Hayes' policy. It also discloses Mr. Conkling's position, which has been a matter of doubt. Some of his friends explain that his speech in the Convention last week was inspired by a desire to crush Mr. Curtis, who antagonized Conkling's aspirations for the Presidency, and does not necessily indicate a purpose to make an issue with President Hayes in Senatorial legislation.

TWEED'S confessions of the infamous doings of the Tammany Democracy are likely to foment a nice quarrel among the Democratic magnates in New York. John Kelly, the present Tammany sachem, and John Morrissey are rivals, contesting for the leadership of the party. Thus far Tweed's testimony has not implicated Kelly, and Morrissey says the great thief is being used to build up Kelly and break down those who refuse to train under him—that Tweed is not only concealing the truth, but lying outright—that he could name fifty or seventy-five men with whom Tweed had divided the spoils, who are now on the Tammany Committee or among the Board of Aldermen—that Tweed could tell about illegal practices which made Kelly Sheriff, if he were telling the truth in this performance. To which Tweed replies in a card, denouncing Morrissey as a prize-fighter, gambler and liar, without honor or principle. It is a pretty quarrel as it stands, and the revelations made on both sides are sufficient to prove that the worst things said heretofore of the past and present influences that control the Democratic party of New York fall short of the truth.

THERE has been no further fighting in Turkey. Rains and bad weather have set in, rendering active military operations impracticable for the present. Both sides are preparing for winter quarters. Snow has already fallen in the Shipka Pass, which is still held by the Russians. Mebenit Ali, the Turkish commander-in-chief, has withdrawn his forces to the east bank of the Lom. The Turks have reinforced Plevna with fresh troops and supplies. Gen. Todleben, the celebrated engineer who had charge of the Russian defences in the Crimean war, succeeds Gen. Zotoff as chief of staff to the army operating against Plevna. After examining the position, he has decided that it can only be taken by regular siege operations.

TWEED was again before the New York Aldermanic committee last week. He continued his testimony as to the corrupt agencies used by the Ring in buying up members of the legislature, controlling various newspapers, and even the Judges. There were a large number of persons on the city pay rolls who rendered no service other than political. In regard to the city elections he unblushingly but cooly declared that he did not suppose that they ever had an honest election, that the vote was announced and the papers made out to return any desired majority, irrespective of the ballots actually cast. In regard to the election of 1868, he admitted that the Democratic majority in the city of 69,150 was counted fraudulently, whereby Hoffman was made Governor and the electoral vote of the State given to Seymour. The telegraph wires were monopolized by himself, Hall and Sweeny, during the day and night, to enable them to consummate the fraud. Worse still—the Democratic leaders were cognizant of the villainy. We extract from the testimony:

He remembered the closing of that election. Most of the notabilities of the Democratic leaders were with him that evening at the Metropolitan Hotel. Hall, Sweeny and himself caused telegrams to be sent out during the day for the purpose of keeping telegraph wires going, so as to prevent the counties throughout the State knowing what we were doing in the city. Witness did not think that the vote was over an honest election in New York. The result of aggregate votes in the city and county in 1868 was probably caused by inspectors of election, and not by voters, and we took means to effect that result. One suggestion was to, if necessary, telegraph the Bible all over the State, especially in Lawrence county, where they were beating us three to one, as we believed, in order to keep the wires going and the outside from knowing how we were getting on in New York.

Bear in mind, gentle reader, that all this transpired in that paradise of unadulterated, simon-pure Democracy, New York city, where there has always been the fiercest denunciations of Republican mal-administration and the loudest howls for "Democracy and Reform!" Don't forget, also, that among the "notabilities of the Democratic party" in 1868 was Samuel J. Tilden, then Chairman of the Democratic State Committee and bosom friend of William M. Tweed.

CONGRESSMEN are gathering at Washington, preparatory for the special session which meets on Monday week, Oct. 15. Clerk Adams is doctoring up the rolls and will give the Democrats not less then 12 majority for organization. There will be a number of contested seats. Randall will no doubt be elected Speaker.

Mr. Stephens, of Georgia, passed through Baltimore on Saturday and was interviewed by a correspondent of the Baltimore American. He will vote for Randall for Speaker. His views on the "fraud" cry are thus reported:

Rep.—Do you think, sir, that Mr. Hayes was seated by fraud?

Mr. Stephens—I think Mr. Hayes' tenure is firmer than that of any President ever inaugurated in the United States. He holds his office by the judgment of the highest judicial authority in the land. Even if I thought their decision was wrong, which I do not, I should bow to it as I would to any decree from the bench.

Rep.—Do you think there will be any question of the validity of that decision raised in Congress?

Mr. Stephens—I do not; such assaults, if indeed there are any, will come rather from passion than from mature judgment.

HON. EDWARD MCPHERSON'S administration of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing continues to command favorable commendation from the press. One reform succeeds another, with large saving to the government, and this without any pretentious parade. The Internal Revenue Stamps are now printed by his Bureau, saving about $75,000 a year on the figures heretofore paid for that work. Last week the contracts for printing the black backs to the United States notes (the only printing not executed in the Bureau) expired, and new bids were invited by the Secretary of the Treasury. Various bank note engravers put in bids, but Mr. McPherson's estimate was lower than any bid, and the Secretary has ordered the printing to be transferred to the Bureau. This will make another saving for the government of about $45,000 a year. The reforms introduced into the Bureau by Mr. McPherson, with systematized work and discharge of useless employees, will save to the government about $6000,000 a year.

It looks as if the Democrats of Philadelphia have captured the Labor party, so far as concerns District Attorney. The Times is anxious to defeat Judge Thayer, the Republican candidate for that office, and elect Mr. Hagert, the Democratic nominee. The Labor party will be an important factor in the campaign. Their candidate was J. H. Andrews. For some time there have been active negotiations for for Anders' withdrawal and the substitution of Benj. Harris Brewster, which arrangement was concluded on Monday. Mr. Brewster is a distinguished lawyer, who has been chafing under his defeat by Thayer in the Republican convention. This side arrangement brings Brewster into the field, with the expectation that he will draw off enough Republican votes from Thayer to elect Hagert; and that will probably be the result.

ON Saturday Lieut. Bullis with a company of U. S. troops pursued a party of cattle thieving Indians across the Rio Grande into Mexico. Col. Shafter crossed over next day with a battery and eight companies, to support Bullis, if necessary. The Indians made their escape, but abandoned some of the stolen ponies. All the troops returned across the Rio Grande on Monday without collision with Mexican troops, although a company of the latter closely followed Bullis. If these dangerous "border" troubles continue, the country may drift into a war with Mexico before the people know it. And that, we guess, is what adventurers along the line of the Rio Grande are aiming at.

THE Republican of New Jersey have nominated Hon. William A. Newell for Governor. As the State has been voting steadily Democratic for twelve or fifteen years, it is likely to do so this fall; but Newell is likely to give Gen. McClellan some trouble, as he is popular, has served three terms in Congress, and was elected Governor in 1856. Gen. Kilpatrick presided over the convention and made a ringing speech, with sharp hits at "Little Mac's" digging and ditching propensities during the Rebellion.

THE Ohio and Iowa elections will take place next Tuesday. Iowa will vote Republican by decisive majorities. The result in Ohio is doubtful, and is claimed by both sides. The State has been very close for several years, and it is not likely that the majority on either side next Tuesday will exceed 5,000. The Labor and Greenback tickets trouble the political prophets.

BY the debt statement issued on Monday it appears that the reduction during September was $3,882,524.80, and since the 1st of July $8,570,988.39. The coin in the Treasury, less coin certificates, is $81,184,548.40, which is nearly $47,000,000 more than at the same date last year. This increase in coin and the reduction in the gold premium from 110¼ to 103 marks the progress made towards resumption during the year.

ARCHBISHOP BAYLEY, of the Baltimore diocess, is lying very ill at Newark, N. Jersey, with no hopes of recovery. He returned from Europe some months ago, suffering from kidney disease, and has been lying at Newark ever since.

Archbishop Bailey died on Wednesday morning. Bishop Gibbons, of Richmond, will be his successor.

THE Republican State Committee is now established at Rooms Nos. 5 and 6, Continental Hotel, Philadelphia—William P. Wilson, Chairman; John A. Smull, Secretary.

SOME of the Pittsburg rioters still show a good deal of venom. Last week General Pearson was arrested on a charge of murder, on the oath of Nicholas Stoppel charging him with having ordered the troops to fire. A writ of habeas corpus was sued out and Judge Kilpatrick released him on $10,000 bail to answer any indictment.

He was attacked by the prisoners' friends, and in the fight that ensued one of the assailants was killed and several others wounded. He succeeded in lodging his prisoners in jail.

VERMONT'S LIQUOR LAW.—In the Windham County, Vt., Court, on Thursday, Ophelia Snow recovered a verdict of $2,800 against Daniel C. Carpenter & Son, hotel proprietors and prominent citizens of Readsboro, on account of injuries received by being thrown from a wagon in consequence of her husband's being drunk. The liquor was purchased of the defendants, and as the suit was a test case under the Vermont liquor law, it excited great interest.

INDIAN CHIEFS AT WASHINGTON.—A number of noted Indian chiefs visited Washington last week to confer with the President. Among them are Red Cloud, Spotted Tail, and a number of minor Sioux chiefs, some of whom were in the Custer massacre. They have got tired of war and profess a desire to live in peace. Their visit to Washington was to confer with the President about the reservations on which they are to be placed. They had a final interview on Monday in the East room of the White House. Spotted Tail said he had picked out Wounded Knee Creek as the place for his agency, and he wanted his clothing and supplies sent there. He and his people wanted time to sell the property they have where they now live, but would move in the spring or any time after that. He repeated his former statements as to their wants—a big school house, English teachers, a Catholic priest, those who wear black gowns, a saw and grist mill, agricultural implements and seeds, and cattle with short horns. The chiefs also wanted about forty dollars a piece to buy things for their women and children, overcoats and for each a trunk to hold their clothing. Red Cloud made similar requests, and indicated White River for his agency. The President in response repeated his former statement that the goods intended for them would not be moved from the Missouri river. He said Gen. Crook would assist them to move, and in the spring they could select their reservations. The Secretary of the Interior would satisfy their wants as far as possible. He then shook hands with them, and they departed apparently well satisfied. The proposed location of their reservations is satisfactory to the Government. They will receive a small amount of money and suitable clothing before leaving the city about Wednesday next.

PHILADELPHIA is excited over another missing boy sensation. On Friday last Willie Bishop, seven years of age, was playing with two other small boys in an unoccupied house. His playmates returned to their homes without him, and all they could tell was that they left Willie in the house and that the door was shut by some larger boys fastening him in. They were unable to tell where the house was, and the search for the missing boy has been unavailing. Being closely questioned, after two days of intense anxiety by the parents, his playmates told the true story, that they had gone to the wharf and that Willie fell into the river and was drowned. The body has been recovered. The boys have since been arrested on the charge of having pushed Willie into the river.

The dwellers among the snows of Norway and the peasants of sunny France and Spain, find use for it, and find means to get it, and it does not disappoint them. EDITOR STAR AND SENTINEL:

We noticed an article in the paper on honey bees as an annoyance. A couple weeks ago, we got a few bushels of very fine peaches. While preparing them for next day's boiling, one honey bee came into the kitchen, and presently ten or twelve—the first I saw in the house the whole Summer. We thought nothing particularly strange about that. But what was my surprize the next morning, on opening the door into the shed, where we had left a crock of apple sauce not very well covered on the table. The bees came in by hundreds, crawled in, and were carrying away the sauce. The women were afraid to go near the table. I then carried the crock to another point and covered it up tightly, but still the bees came to the table in large numbers. I then thought of some gas tar which I set on fire and succeeded in driving them away for a time. After while they returned again in great numbers. My wife suggested that we open a crock of apple sauce and let them have it. In a short time it was a mass of bees. We took off the peach marmalade about twelve o'clock, and set the crocks to pour, throwing papers loosely over the top. While at dinner they came in such numbers or quantities that they covered the crocks, two or three double. We became frightened, and thought we had to abandon the marmalade and house too. But fortunately they did not sting much. The boys then came in with hats and fly bushes to assist in driving them out. My wife took a spoon and scraped off the top, bees and all. As soon as we could get a crock cleaned off, it was carried away to a dark place. There were perhaps two quarts of bees destroyed, and we lost about three quarts of marmalade. Where the bees came from I do not know, as we are not aware of any one in the neighborhood having any. The ten or twelve bees which came in the first day, might have gone to some distant scap, and brought in the rest. I have had suggested since that, that burning rags among them is a remedy for driving them away, should any one be annoyed in the same manner.

Respectfully yours,
EMANUEL BUSHMAN.

P. S.—I send you a glass of marmalade, minus the bees.

Special Notices.

Consumption can be CURED.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,
SCHENCK'S SEA WEED TONIC,
SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS.

Are the only medicines that will cure Pulmonary Consumption.

Frequently medicines that will stop a cough will occasion the death of the patient; they lock up the liver, stop the circulation of the blood; hemorrhage follows, and in fact they clog the action of the very organs that caused the cough.

Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia are the causes of two-thirds of the cases of Consumption. Many persons complain of a dull pain in the side, constipation, coated tongue, pain in the shoulder blade, feelings of drowsiness and restlessness, the food lying heavily on the stomach, accompanied with acidity and belching up of wind.

These symptoms usually originate from a disordered condition of the stomach or a torpid liver.

Persons so affected, if they take one or two heavy colds, and if the cough in these cases be suddenly checked, will find the stomach and liver clogged, remaining torpid and inactive, and almost before they are aware the lungs are a mass of sores, and ulcerated, the result of which is death.

Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup is an expectorant which does not contain opium or anything calculated to check a cough suddenly.

Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic dissolves the food, mixes with the gastric juices of the stomach, aids digestion, and creates a ravenous appetite.

When the bowels are costive skin sallow, or the symptoms otherwise of a bilious tendency, Schenck's Mandrake Pills are required.

These medicines are prepared only by
